Our Annual Message

Asis Halder, Secretary, Mukti

FY 2018 was a year for MUKTI to redefine itself. It was a year to look back and analyze what went well for more than a decade and what are the areas we need to focus more for improvement. MUKTI core team did a thorough analysis and found three key areas to focus in this year – Finance Management, Sustainability through Volunteer Engagement and Effective Communication.

Finance process simplification has been the target for this year. Our new Treasurer is an experienced person in this domain and has started taking initiatives with the full support from the board members to bring more clarity and transparency of finance.

Sustainability is the biggest challenge for any small to medium scale NGO as they are primarily driven by one single individual. So, we felt the need to engage more volunteers in a more meaningful way. MUKTI started taking multiple initiatives for Volunteer Engagement. This includes Sunderban Tour Program along with MUKTI project exhibition, opening of new chapters in city area to engage local volunteers.

A clear and transparent communication is the key to the growth for any NGO. We have created a dedicated team to continuously feed the stakeholders with all activities happening in MUKTI.

Besides the strategic initiatives the regular projects have been running quite successfully in this year with some significant improvement in some key areas.

- MUKTI Support School 5 days model has been proven to be successful and it has been now extended to two more centers
- New building has been built with 50% support from SMILE Foundation. This is the first project executed with this organization and expecting more funding from them in the years to come
- New branch opened at Shakher More for MUKTI Institute of Technology (MIT) to start Computer Training. The Electrical work and Mobile Repairing training will start shortly

Fund raising is a regular focus area for MUKTI now. This year MUKTI participated in the Airtel Hyderabad Marathon for fund raising. Two volunteers of MUKTI participated in this run to support two important project cause – MUKTI Community Development Fund (MCDF) and MUKTI Environment Project. The response was extremely encouraging.

This year, MUKTI has also become a registered partner of TCS Maitree. This recognition has opened a new window for MUKTI to be part of any Corporate sustainability work undertaken by TCS Maitree.

Considering the above facts, I must say that this has been an eventful year for MUKTI, where a number of strategic initiatives have been taken along with the steady progress of all the existing projects. In the process of serving to society, MUKTI has now successfully created a trusted platform for any volunteer to come forward and contribute and for any beneficiary to take the benefit out of it. On behalf of MUKTI, I would like to take this opportunity to convey my gratitude to all the volunteers who support directly or indirectly for this social work and to all the employees who are working hard to make this work happen on the ground and finally to all the beneficiaries who are giving us the opportunity to serve and helping us to become better human beings through this service to society.

Sustainable Agricultural Movement

The Purpose

It is an irony in the 21st century, where we talk of disruptive innovations in all aspects of our life, the primary need of human beings are at danger. Purity of our food is becoming a concern. Fertilizers and insecticides that was once hailed by farmers are fast becoming a noose for all due to its dangerous side effects. Mukti was able to foresee the ill-effects of it as early as 2009. Thus, was born Mukti's organic farming project known as Sustainable Agricultural Movement (SAM).

Our Approach

SAM had its humble beginning in the villages of Nagendrapur and Kankandighi. Using Mukti's home grown organic farming technology, over the years the farmers are doing agriculture in a sustainable manner. The focus is to enhance the quality of the land and grow food without any insecticides or fertilizers.

At present, Mukti is working on to certify 100 farmers with Participatory Guarantee Systems (PGS). The PGS is an internationally applicable organic quality assurance system. PGS farmers in a group inspect each other's land and vouch for its organic credentials. Mukti has divided these 100 farmers in 10 groups and working towards the certification.

Mukti is also supporting and training 151 land-less farmers. They are from Adivasi (scheduled tribe) family and hail from the salty lands near the Sunderban delta. They are being trained on organic farming techniques as well as making of vermi compost, D compost, herbal tonics, etc. These farmers are also learning organic manure preparation, land testing, seed selections, etc.

Mukti Seed Bank:

Mukti has been working for a long time to preserve local seeds of indigenous varieties. These collected seeds are regrown and distributed to the organic farmers.

Linking The Market:

Mukti launched 'MUKTI Fresh' a home grown initiative to connect organic farmers to buyers. MUKTI FRESH (www.muktifresh.in) delivers organic vegetables, fruits and products to customers in Kolkata and South 24 Paraganas. Daily orders are taken over phone and digital media.

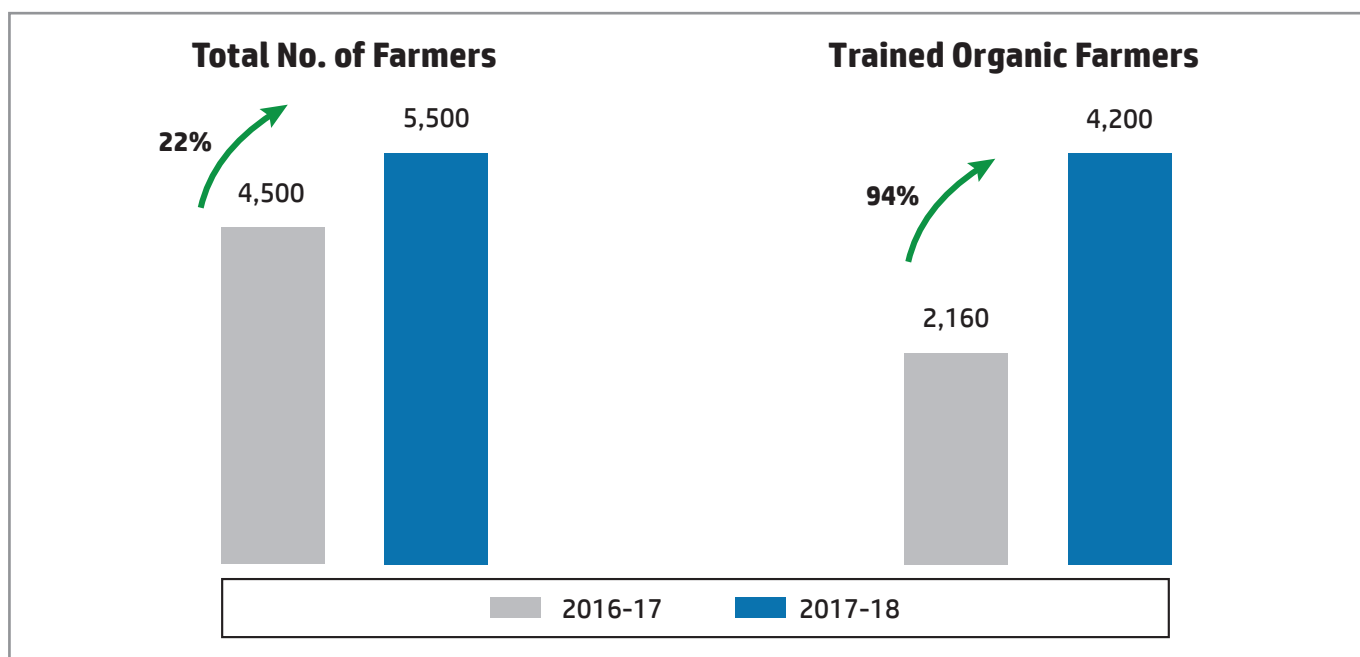

- In an effort to offer more exposure and collaboration, Mukti encouraged organic farmers to participate at Sundarban Agriculture & Handicrafts Exhibition 2018 (Kankandighi), Agriculture Fair (Mathurapur – 2 block), Basundhara Utsab (Belgachiya, Kolkata), State Agriculture Fair (Bidhan Shishu Uddyan, Bidhan Nagar, Kolkata), Agriculture Fair (Naktala Udayan Sangha, Naktala, Kolkata) and the Agriculture Fair (Baidik Village, Rajarhat, Kolkata).
- Variety of crop production: Rice, Daal, Sunflower oil, Mustard, Sesame, Pointed gourd (Parval), Ridge gourd, Bitter gourd, Ladies finger, Tamato, Cucumber, Bottle gourd, Pumpkin, Papaya, Brinjal, Yam, Ginger, Turmeric, Onion, Potato, Spinach, Thyme leaf (Dhane), Chilli, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Beetroot, Radish, etc.
- Other than Mukti Fresh, the various locations of daily markets where Mukti sells organic vegetables are: Ramkrishna Bazar (Purbasridharpur) Akshay Bazar (Nagendrapur & Dammkal), Sakher more bazaar (Nagendrapur & Baradanagar), Pancham Khanda Bazar (Nagendrapur & Baradanagar), Jatar Bazar (Purba Jata & Pachim Jata), Sadhur Hat (Uttar Kankandighi), Abhay Bazar (Purba Jata), Jora Bat tala Bazar (Purba Jata & Barada nagar) Raidighi Bazar (Nagendrapur & Kankandighi GP)

Impact

- Surajit Baidya, a farmer supported by Mukti won the 2018 Krishak Ratna award from the West Bengal State Government for scalable and new organic methods of farming
- No. of trainings conducted = 82 in various places in the South 24 Paraganas

Mukti Community Development Fund

The Purpose

MUKTI Community Development Fund (MCDF), a project targeted at women empowerment & creation of entrepreneurs in the Sunderban villages – one of the poorest districts of the world. In 2012, MCDF was started to bring needy families out of the sole dependency on agricultural income. Moreover, Mukti targeted to make rural women enterprising and uplifting their stature in the community. In the last six years, the MCDF program had 100% loan repayment.

Our Approach

MCDF functions in the districts of South 24 parganas in West Bengal. MCDF operates through four branches: Purbashridharpur, Raidighi, Sonatikari and Kultali. Mukti encourages rural women to form Self Help Groups (SHGs) irrespective of caste and religion. Then these rural women are trained on various business. Mukti arranges trainers and brings partnering organisations to help these women connect to the market. Mukti is also instrumental in bringing micro loans which are much lower in interest rates compared to moneylenders and micro finance companies.

Mukti pushes SHG's to save regularly from the business profits earned by their members. The goal is to make every SHG sustainable within 3 years of inception. As MCDF field officers and associates hail from the local villages and have good traction with these rural women entrepreneurs – Mukti encourages them to spend their profits on health, hygiene, education and retirement corpus.

Success Stories

Amuna Mandal, Nagendrapur, Raidighi

Amuna aged 26, mother of a 3 year old daughter stays with her husband in Nagendrapur village in South 24 Paraganas. Though her husband worked hard, the family was not able to come out of poverty. 3 years ago, Amuna became a member of SHG and undertook training in jute craft from Mukti, and is now skilled on making various types of handicraft jewelry. Belonging to a distant rural terrain or being a mother of a young kid did not deter her in participating and selling jute crafts at various government and local exhibitions and fairs. She has been able to generate reasonable earnings. Due to MCDF, her family income doubled and she has also been able to put some savings aside.

Sampa Majhi, Radhabalabpur, Kultali

Sampa hails from Radhabalabpur village in South 24 Paraganas. Her family consist of husband and two sons. Sampa has been associated with Mukti for last one and half years. She has been the Chairperson of Mukti's SGH. She has undergone poultry training and thereafter took a loan from MCDF. Her hard work paid off and now her monthly earnings range between Rs. 9,000 to 10,000 – one of the highest in Mukti's history. Further as a leader, she has made her SHG sustainable. With her regular savings, Sampa dreams of scaling up business and investing on higher education of her son. Mukti is proud to support such enterprising rural woman.

Impact

In the last six years, the MCDF program had 100% loan repayment. Loan amount per borrower increased by 80% from Rs. 5,000 to above Rs. 9,000. In the current financial year, MCDF branches of Purbashridharpur and Raidighi have been operating in a self sustainable mode. This is a major achievement for Mukti. Diversification into more than 15 kind of business, taking away the dependency on agriculture and fishing – mitigating the threats of the weather.

The Purpose

Mukti works on difficult terrains of the Sunderban in West Bengal. The project areas of Mukti are exposed to natural calamities and soil erosion. Most of the end beneficiaries are landless and single bread earners. Moreover, the occupations they are engaged are risky and dependent on nature.

To address this twin problem, Mukti launched its Environmental project. Mukti’s objective is to provide nutritious food grown at their backyard to these needy people houses. It also aims to provide them with some minimum income through cultivations. Lastly, the aim is to grow trees and help balance the Sunderban environment, enriches the soil and benefits the local community.

Our Approach

Using cutting and grafting techniques 35,700 new plants were grown. This includes 40 varieties of flowering and fruit-bearing trees.

- 15,000 of these were distributed free of cost to various local schools, youth clubs, individuals, and Mukti offices
- Another 1,000 were sold at subsidized prices
- 12,000 were planted at the 4 flower gardens being maintained by Mukti

490 coconut saplings were distributed to 107 families under Mukti’s NARKEL project in 2016. As per project terms, these families were paid INR 150 for each surviving sapling after a year. Thus, INR 59,550 was paid out in 2017.

Additionally, 735 new coconut saplings were distributed to 82 families in 2017.

4 flower gardens, as well as coconut, banana, and papaya orchards are being developed and maintained at various lands owned by Mukti.

The SAM and library project office sites are being maintained and beautified. Boundary walls, irrigation, and drainage has been put in place, and paddy is being grown and harvested in the office grounds. Work is in progress to produce organic manure at the site. The pond at the grounds has been cleaned up, and bamboo platforms have been made at the banks for the benefit of guests interested in fishing.

Impact

Till date, through this project MUKTI have distributed 2 lakhs trees to rural women and 40,000 coconut trees planted – prevents soil erosion in delta region.

Vocational Training Program

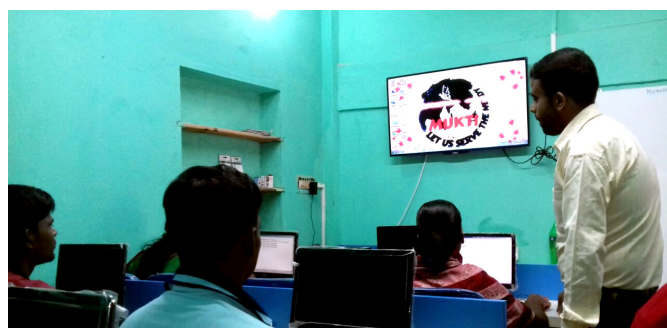

The Purpose

In 2016, looking at the thousands of unemployed youths in Nagendrapur and Kankandighi villages – Mukti started Mukti Institute of Technology (MIT). The rural youths lacked computer literacy and were unable to compete with urban peers even with similar academic qualifications due to gap in communicating in English. MIT in Raidigi for the last couple of years have started working to bridge the gaps on computer education and job interview skills.

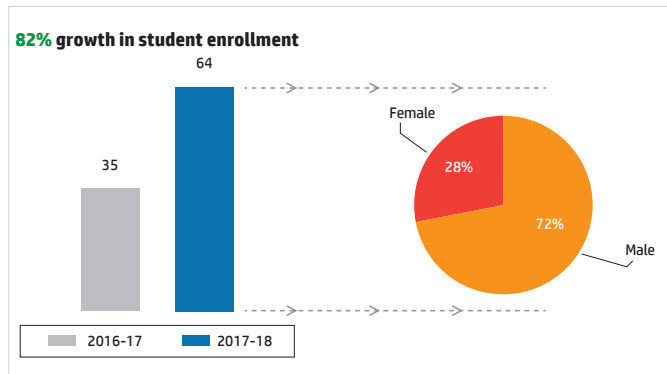

To address this twin problem, Mukti launched its Environmental project. Mukti's objective is to provide nutritious food grown at their backyard to these needy people houses. It also aims to provide them with some minimum income through cultivations. Lastly, the aim is to grow trees and help balance the Sunderban environment, enriches the soil and benefits the local community.

Our Approach

MIT has capacity of 20 students in a classroom - equipped with 20 computers, a printer, a scanner and 2 40" LED TV. MIT is Wi-Fi enabled which is being used for teaching via the internet and e-classes are conducted via Skype. On completion of the course, exam is conducted and successful candidates are awarded certificate. For the computer courses the fees ranges from Rs. 1,050 to 2,050 and the Spoken English course is free for all.

Course Details	Duration
MUKTI Certified Account Management	6 months
MUKTI Certified Desktop Office Application	3 months
MUKTI Certified Secured Web Service Assistant	6 months
MUKTI Certified Desktop Publishing Operator)	6 months
Spoken English & Job Interview Communications	6 months

Impact

Feedback on MIT courses from the local community is encouraging. Already 10 students have got jobs as clerks, data entry operators, BPO executives, lab technicians and computer teachers. Other passed students have started their own business.

Mukti runs this project at 50% discount on cost incurred for each student and few times even at 100% discount !!

The Purpose

The objective of Mukti's Book Bank programme is to spread awareness about the importance of education. In remote place like the Sundarban in West Bengal, guardians are not fully aware of the importance and benefits of education. Most of families residing here are dependent on agriculture and fishing for their livelihood. So they do not make the effort to send their children to school. Also they are financially crippled and find it difficult to purchase the text books for their children. As a result the drop-out rate are increasing significantly. In, 2003 Mukti launched this programme to address this issue and encourage more students to pursue their dream of higher education. This project was Mukti's first step in serving the needy.

Our Approach

Mukti Book Banks have a collection of books including study materials needed for class V to Post Graduation studies as well as competitive exams for government jobs. The books are provided on loan to all the enrolled students under book bank project for a period of one year.

Mukti book bank project has been able to reach an area spread over 200 kilometres. In this model, there is a small committee from each chosen school consisting of the head master, a few teachers from the school, local volunteers and Mukti Book Bank Coordinator. The Head master of the school is responsible for ensuring the return of the books from the students. He will re-distribute those books to the next year's needy students. Each year the committee decides on the requirements of the books, selects the needy students and helps to execute the project successfully.

A Success Story

Rural girl's journey to Kolkata's leading Hospital's lab

Mallika Hazra hails from Nagendrapur village at Raidighi in South 24 Paraganas district in West Bengal. Her family was dependent solely on the farming income of his father. As Mallika was moving to the higher classes, her parents worry on continuing education of their child was deepening. Mallika started getting all the books she needed from Mukti book bank since she was in Class 7, right up to Class 12 and beyond that while pursuing Diploma in Medical Laboratory Technology. When she landed with a job at Rabindranath Tagore International Institute of Cardiac Sciences, Kolkata – other than her parents, she was thankful to the Mukti Book Bank.

We at Mukti, are honoured to have supported such rural hard working students and bringing joy to the needy families. A Big Thank You goes to ASHA FOR EDUCATION for funding the entire project.

Impact

- Mukti has extended book bank service to 5,000 students in 2017-2018
- Mukti Book Bank has served around 30,000 students in the past 14 years
- At present the project is operating in 38 schools of Sundarban and 7 college in West Bengal.

Coaching Centre

The Purpose

Mukti serves the needy people in the Sunderban delta region. Schools in the Sunderban lacks the infrastructure to support first generation literates. Students of these schools used to drop out from the primary classes as there was no one back home to mentor and guide them. Private tuitions being a costly affair was not an option for them.

Thus, started the first Mukti Coaching center on 8th August 2006 In Nagendrapur Gram Panchayat – to address this problem.

Our Approach

Mukti coaching center runs in 7 villages providing tuition classes to students from class 5 to 10. The subjects taught are English, Mathematics, Physical Science, Life Science, History, Geography and Bengali. Classes are held early morning at various school premises and Mukti coaching center. The building is a temporary mud house built in a land owned by Mukti. There are 29 teachers at present employed with Mukti Coaching Centers.

The programme was open to all students in the neighbouring areas. It was arranged in Nagendrapur H K High school for 2 days. 96 boys and 128 girls attended the programme. English, Physical Science, Life Science, Mathematics, History and Bengali were the subjects taught. This coaching would not have been successful without the help of the honourable teachers of Dum Dum K. K. Hindu Academy – and we thank them sincerely for it.

Impact

- Since inception, in the last 11 years Mukti coaching center has helped more than 5,000 students.
- More than 1,200 students have passed Class 12th with the valuable guidance from the teachers at Mukti Coaching Center.

Success Stories – Mukti tutors

Chandrakanta Purkait, Konkondighi

Chandrakanta Purkait from Konkondighi in South 24 Paraganas belongs to a very needy family – his father is a van driver and his mother a home maker. With only his father’s income they somehow managed the family expense but could not provide him education facilities and supporting classes.

Mukti coaching center mentored Chandrakanta and he completed his class 10 with 533 marks in 2016. He scored 87 in Maths and 66 in English. Mukti also helped him with books and notebooks for last few years. This year he will appear his class 12th exam. In future he wants to pursue Engineering.

Bhagabati Chatterjee, Purbosridharpur

Bhagabati Chatterjee from Purbosridharpur too belongs to a very poor family. Whatever her father earns is spend on the family needs, with none remaining for her education. So to continue her studies she took help from Mukti. From class 5 till class 10 she was a student of Mukti’s Coaching center. Mukti also sponsored her books and notebooks. She got 81% in class 10th and attributes it to the teachers of the coaching center.

She continued her studies majoring in Science. Now she is working as a teacher in Damkal School.

Success Stories

Ujjal Mondal,

Ujjal Mondal student of TSS 2014 batch, hails from a distant village in South 24 paraganas. His family consists of parents and a younger sister. Ujjal and her sister are visually impaired since birth. Ujjal's father, is a hawker and the sole bread earner in the family. Though Ujjal was a bright student, arranging expenses for his education was a challenge. Things became more difficult as he got a chance to pursue graduation in Bengali (Hons.) from Jadavpur University. The entire funds had run out by the time he got selected for the post-graduate degree. One of his professors recommended him to TSS and we sponsored him for the next few years. Next, his hard work was paid off as in 2016, he landed with a clerical job with South Eastern Railway. With the regular income from this Government job, Ujjal wishes to take care of his family first. He wishes to pursue Ph.D in the future. Mukti feels gratifying to see this hard working TSS alumni stand tall and above all helping him to dream big.

Over the last few years, the support for Mukti's activities in India has grown in Australia. This has been possible due to the nature of Mukti's development work and impact caused. On top of that, another driver was the enthusiasm shown by the members of Mukti in Australia in promoting Mukti amongst Bengalis residing in Australia.
